Make sure they get home to their loved ones.

You work hard to keep your workplace and your people safe, and prepared. This involves balancing your company's objectives with legal obligations, and that takes valuable time away from your workday. We make it easier for you to focus on your job, with a dedicated team to help you take care of safety matters.

Our industry specialists can advise on products and applications, and know how important it is to balance high quality with value for money. We understand that while budgets get reduced, safety expectations don't.

A typical serious workers' compensation claim involves four weeks' absence from work.³

The brands you know and trust. The quality your people deserve.

Indoors, outdoors, or on the road. We help make it safer through our wide range of renowned brands. In fact, we stock more than 20,000 safety products, catering for every industry including offices, mining, construction, manufacturing, food service, transport, warehousing, government and retail.

You'll even get access to expert assistance direct from the manufacturers for services like assessments, signage and AED (Automatic External Defibrillator) procedures. Look to us for quality items including:

- Clothing
- Footwear
- Height safety
- Fire protection
- Gloves
- Eye, ear and face protection
- First Aid
- Hydration
- Signage
- Matting
- Defibrillators

Safety starts with what you've got on.

Our workwear lines are constructed of high quality, rugged fabrics that withstand our challenging elements and meet relevant Australian and New Zealand standards. High visibility options for pants, jackets, shirts and rainwear mean that your men and women stay safe and seen.

From leading workwear brands, all garments are engineered for ultimate ease of wear, making them comfortable even on the longest days.

We understand there is often urgency behind getting your safety gear, and deliver on that with short lead times – even for custom embroidered pieces. It's all part of our solution.

21 Australians suffer fall injuries each day in the workplace. At an average 6.2 weeks off work for each, it's a chance you can't afford to take.⁵

Every worker should be within four minutes of an AED for the best chance of survival.⁴

You make the call for safety. We make it easy.

When you're setting up a safety program or purchasing your supplies, you don't need any bumps in the road.

Ordering is easy, through our 24/7 online platform – see stock availability before you click. Then it's on its way to you. Vast national stock holdings means the supplies you need are never far off, with fast delivery wherever you are.

We can even tailor an onsite vending or serviced storage solution, taking the worry out of managing stock on hand. Leave that to us.

In today's environment, every dollar counts. Through our online solution, robust reporting capabilities help you better understand your spend, and more importantly, where you could save.

You've got the facts. Now avoid becoming a statistic.
